Asian Studies
Supplementary Major Worksheet

This worksheet is meant to help students plan and monitor progress toward completion of the supplementary major in Asian Studies. Submission of this worksheet is not necessary in order to complete the degree.

The supplementary major in Asian Studies emphasizes the study of Asia as an integral part of the world today. Students study both its history and current aspects of culture, society, politics, literature, language, religion, etc. Required courses emphasize an interdisciplinary perspective through cross-listed classes found throughout Notre Dame.

Through the interdisciplinary nature of the major, classes draw from a broad range of topics so that students come away with a holistic and comprehensive study of Asia, including both humanistic and social scientific approaches to study of Asia.

Requirements: Asia-related courses fulfilling each of the following: (24 credit hours)

☐ One social science (anthropology, economics, political science, psychology, or sociology) (3 credit hours)
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________

☐ One humanities (theology, philosophy, or English) (3 credit hours)
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________

☐ One history: one class in ancient, early, or modern history (3 credit hours)
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________

☐ One literature (3 credit hours)
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________

☐ Three general electives (can include up to 6 credit hours of language) (9 credit hours)
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________

☐ One upper level course taken during the senior year that culminates in a capstone essay (3 credit hours)
Course: (No.) (Title) Term: _________